STATESVILLE, N.C. October 11, 2017 – PRNewswire / Kewaunee Scientific Corporation (NASDAQ: KEQU) today announced that its Board of Directors have become members of the National Association of Corporate Directors (“NACD”).

The NACD states their vision is to aspire to a world where businesses are sustainable, profitable, and respected and stakeholders trust directors to help develop strategies that create long-term value and provide effective oversight of the company.

Through actionable resources, the NACD enhances directors’ abilities to fulfill their roles to increase the value of the company they represent and to serve as strategic assets for the company. Membership connects our directors to a network of more than 17,000 board members from leading public, private, and nonprofit organizations, in addition to 87 percent of the Fortune 1000.

NACD is the recognized leader on boardroom practices which enables the directors to strengthen investor trust and public confidence as they are well-prepared for tomorrow’s challenges. They have been setting the standard for responsible board leadership for 40 years.

“We are delighted that our Board of Directors are now members of this highly prestigious organization,” stated William A. Shumaker, Chairman of the Board of Directors. “This will enable our directors to advance their already exemplary board leadership and enable them to utilize the many resources available to them through this organization, thereby enhancing the future growth of Kewaunee Scientific Corporation for its stockholders.”
